

My different Identities

Mau

Friends

In these photos, I'm with all my friends, at different times.

In one, I'm at my friend Melina's house, where we met for lunch and an afternoon.

In another, I'm at Andrea's house, and we decided to have a Minecraft-themed get-together.

Overall, they all have in common that I show myself in a more expressive way; we could say I show a bit more of my extroverted personality.

Family

In these photos, I'm with my family, my mom, my dad, my dad's friends, and a cousin on my dad's side. I'm not usually as extroverted with my family as I would be with my friends, but more so with my uncles and my dad, generally on my dad's side.

But for example, in this photo where I'm with my cousin Ximena, I took it when I went to Guadalajara on vacation. I bonded more with her and she brought out my extroverted and energetic side more.

In this other photo, I'm with my mom. At the time, we were in Mochis, and we went for a walk, just her and me. My mom is the one I've been most transparent with.

Student

In these photos, I'm with my friends here at school, specifically when we were in second year of high school.

In general, at school, I'm a little more serious; I hold back more, I control myself, but when I'm with them, like in these photos, I become a little more extroverted.

Thank You

